Autograph Letter of J. N. D.

Jamez

Dearest Brother

It was the same offspring which was respecting in the Lord's soul & apprehended when he was in fetter chains. He was not made prisoner. That Christians take it as part of the judgment itself which I apprehend is a mistake, but a comparatively innocent one, be cause it was the anticipated sense of it. The Lord was pleading with his Father about the way he had to drink though he was not drinking it thus the sense of judgment was what mattered though he was not under judgment. The only real thought on this point I ever swore of in the papers is that we could apply this in respect of the to rail under judgment in the lathways as well as the Drury of the up our meeting here I have not dear brother's address I received a letter from him from Halifax he was in the middle of meeting in the Isle of Wight so that I put it in my pocket and I never saw it impossible to find it since I have written to the Isle of Wight but it may have required an answer and I should be glad to know it I have had three large and very attractive meetings with four and many ^{and many} letters many here and I was very happy with them at Plymouth Sunday the children seem to have been immensely happy at the Ratonsouth meeting. Received enquiries from Mrs. Hyman your father according to letters at York & Boston

all this in the Lord I did
