

Dear Mother

I stated what I had to state before the whole assembly at Rye in the afternoon waited the two of weeks but they would not have it up I cannot recall what the particular point was. The meeting of some 200 before whom I appeared was after this and called by the name of knowing Head left of Mr. Newton numbered were coming but all were missed. The party through the streets had known the new abolitionists I saw of oppression and which were

I've been with in a row 60 years before I did not know the half then it's true but enough. Had known all that had been going on might perhaps have taken this step

The clericalism had become un-quiescent. Mr. Weston had proposed not to allow me to speak on my re-turn but Mr. Davis spoke. This I only knew afterwards. Mr. Weston and his influence and his -boy was going on then and after -wards and the most abominable
-preparation.
